NURSING DEPARTMENT.

The Governors have much pleasure in reporting that the Nursing Department shows continued improvement in all its details. This department has three distinct branches ; in the first place an efficient staff is maintained for the services of the Medical and Surgical Wards ; in the second place the Governors have established a school for the training of Probationers in accordance with the most modern method of practice. The course of instruction embraces practical teaching in the wards by the Superintendent, Miss Kelly, and her assistants, and includes bed-making, the skilled handling of the sick and suffering, and the administration of various remedies ; also lectures by Physicians and Surgeons of the Staff. In addition to this practical instruction, the Probationers are also required to attend courses of lectures on Anatomy and Surgical Nursing, Physiology and Medical Nursing, Hygiene and Invalid Cookery, in the Dublin Metropolitan School of Nursing. The candidates are required to pass examinations in the subjects taught on the completion of their fourth year, after which they are granted the Hospital Diploma.

Lastly, there is now a well-organised staff of Trained Nurses available for attending private cases. Anyone requiring their services can obtain them by sending a letter or telegram to the Superintendent of Nurses at the Hospital.

The Nurses' Home, founded 1897, is now fully occupied, and as a large staff is maintained for out-nursing, the profits derived from their earnings more than cover the cost of nursing patients within the Hospital.

The private wards of the Hospital are also increasingly made use of, and continue to give the greatest satisfaction to patients and their friends.

APPENDIX.

The Governors have much satisfaction in referring to the following Report of the Dublin Hospital Sunday Fund, given in the Appendix :—

The Governors, while thanking the many friends of the Hospital for their valuable help in the past, desire to urge the following considerations as reasons why the Institution is deserving of much wider and more liberal support than it has received up to the present time.

1st—It is the oldest Hospital in Dublin, having been founded in 1720 by Dr. Richard Steevens, for “such sick and wounded persons whose distempers and wounds are curable.” From the date of its foundation to the present time, hundreds of thousands of the sick and injured poor of Ireland have received succour within its walls, and though the majority of patients are admitted from Dublin, still large numbers are admitted annually from all parts of Ireland.

2nd—It is strictly undenominational. Patients are admitted without any question as to their religion, whilst the fullest liberty is given to the clergy of every religion to visit patients of their own persuasion.

3rd—The property has seriously decreased in value. The landed property of the Hospital, which was never adequate to its support, has, as a result of recent legislation, been reduced by £550 per annum.

RECENT IMPROVEMENTS.

The Governors have in former reports directed attention to the fact that within the past few years a very large sum has been expended in the reconstruction, on modern lines, of the Operation Theatre, and the fitting up of two Operation Wards adjoining. Also on the erection of a large Destructor, in which all used dressings and matter likely to cause infection are burnt.

A Pathological Laboratory has also been supplied, and the old Mortuary replaced by a new building of an ecclesiastical character, which is much appreciated by the friends of patients dying in the Hospital.

The handsome Balcony erected some time ago on the south side of the Hospital has proved of much advantage to convalescent and other cases requiring open air treatment.

The new Extern Department, erected out of funds bequeathed by the late Mr. James Weir, has greatly facilitated the work of the General and Special Dispensaries, the latter including departments for—

Diseases of the Eye and Ear ;

,, ,, Skin ;

,, ,, Nose and Throat ;

,, ,, Teeth ;

,, peculiar to Women.

During the past year the Governors have replaced the inconvenient and quite inadequate Accident Receiving Room, in which the work of the Resident Staff had been for many years carried on with difficulty, by two large rooms, one of which is fitted up as a Waiting Room. The second, in which the examination and treatment of casualties is carried out, is furnished with an asphalt floor, and the various modern appliances necessary for such work.

The lighting of the Hospital by gas has been for a long time past unsatisfactory and expensive, and the Governors, after exhaustive enquiry, have just replaced the old system by a thoroughly up-to-date Electric installation, the current being supplied by the Corporation. Although only a very short time completed, there is already promise of considerable gain both in cost and efficiency over the lighting by gas.

In connection with the introduction of the Electric lighting, a very complete reconstruction of the X Ray Department has been carried out. Owing to the ever-increasing use of this Department for diagnostic and therapeutic purposes, it was found that the accommodation and apparatus were quite inadequate to efficiently carry out this branch of the Hospital work. Besides a considerable number of patients who are admitted to the Hospital from the country specially for X Ray treatment and diagnosis, there are a great many out-patients from all parts of the city who attend for the treatment of Lupus, Rodent Ulcer, Ringworm, &c. Radium also is used when X Rays are not suitable.

Under the circumstances the Governors have taken advantage of the recent introduction of the Electric current into the Hospital to furnish the new and more commodious X Ray Room and Waiting Room with the most up-to-date, efficient, and time saving apparatus that can be procured at the present time, and which is worked from the Electric mains. These consist of—

- (1) An Electric Motor with direct current Dynamo.
- (2) A triple Wchnelt Electrolytic Interrupter.
- (3) A sixteen-inch Spark Induction Coil.
- (4) A Switch Board fitted with every convenience for measuring and controlling the Electric current supplied.

Although the initial expense of the apparatus is considerable, the running expenses will be reduced to nearly one-third that of the old system, and the efficiency and convenience will be very much increased.

The Governors may add that this is the only Hospital in Dublin that possesses such a powerful X Ray Apparatus, which is identical with that which has been found to give the most satisfactory results by the best continental workers.

WANTS.

The Hospital Physicians have frequently represented to the Governors that the Medical Wards being situated on the north side of the Hospital, there is a complete absence from them of sunshine, which is so essential both for the patients and nurses, and also as affecting the healthiness of the wards themselves. The Governors quite recognise this defect, and hope during the ensuing year, if funds permit, to convert the present Chapel (which faces south and east) into two large Medical Wards, and to provide Chapel accommodation elsewhere.

Special contributions are earnestly asked for both these objects.

FINANCIAL POSITION.

As regards the financial position of the Hospital, the Governors have only avoided incurring debt by exercising the strictest economy in its management.

Other Hospitals, more favourably situated, or better known, may venture to incur debt with some reasonable expectation that the general public will come to their rescue when their engagements have to be met, but the Governors feel that such a course would be most imprudent in the case of Dr. Steevens' Hospital, which is situated in a poor out-lying district, and whose work scarcely comes within the observation of those who reside in wealthier districts.

For this reason the Governors have always striven to live within their income, and they have often to postpone improvements which, though much to be desired, are not within reach on financial grounds.

With regard to the commonly accepted idea that Dr. Steevens' Hospital is so well endowed as not to require external help, we may dismiss such a notion in a single sentence. Our total expenditure on care and maintenance of patients last year was £8,415 2s. 7d., and our total receipts from endowments were £1,555, leaving a balance to be made up from grants and other sources of £6,860 2s. 7d., as will be seen on reference to enclosed Balance Sheet. Of this sum only £560 16s. 5d. was provided from public subscriptions, being but a small fraction of what is given to other general Hospitals in the city.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS AND SUGGESTIONS.

We visited this Hospital on the 19th October, 1907, and were shown over the building by Miss Kelly, the Lady Superintendent. The new Accident Ward continues to work well, and is supplied with every appliance that is essential.

Nothing could be better than the general management of this fine old Institution, which reflects the greatest credit on Miss Kelly, the Lady Superintendent.

APPENDIX II.

NURSING DEPARTMENT.

THIS Institution supplies to the public thoroughly trained nurses at a cost of 2ls. per week. Fever cases, 3ls. 6d. per week. Mental cases, 3ls. 6d. per week.

In addition to this charge, which is made severally for each week or part of a week, the nurse must be paid her travelling expenses, and a further allowance of 2s. 6d. per week for laundry.

In any case lasting over four weeks payment must be made at the end of each fourth week. In all infectious cases, it is required that 15s. shall be paid to the nurse on leaving, for the purposes of disinfection; in cases where the nurse is required to sleep in the Institution, a charge of 10s. per week will be made. Massage cases are charged at 42s. per week, or 3s. 6d. per hour, 2s. per half-hour. Attending operations, 10s. 6d. per day.

On a nurse leaving her case, it is requested that at least twenty-four hours' notice be given by letter to the Superintendent of the Institution.

DRAWINGROOM IN NURSES' HOME.

Nurses are required to carry out carefully and strictly the orders of the medical attendant, to attend mainly to the wants of the patient, to see that everything be clean for the patient's use, and to keep the sick room neat, well dusted, and properly ventilated.

They are not required to perform the work of servants.

Nurses are required to hold sacred the knowledge they may obtain of the private affairs of the family in which they are engaged, and to adapt themselves, as far as possible, to the usages of the house.

It is expressly requested that every nurse be allowed seven consecutive hours' rest out of the day, and that she be allowed in addition one hour daily for exercise; that her rest be taken in a room apart from the patient; that she does not take her meals in the sick room, nor yet with the servants; also, if the condition of the patient allows, the nurse be permitted to attend Divine Service on Sundays.

It is requested that, unless ordered by the medical attendant, no liquors or stimulants be given to the nurse.

The nurse may not sleep out of the house where she is nursing unless it is arranged, with the knowledge of the Superintendent, that she shall do so.

A nurse must at all times wear the uniform provided for her, both in the house and out-of-doors, unless it is specially desired by her employers that she does not do so.

Any misconduct on the part of the nurse should be at once reported to the Superintendent of Nurses, to whom also application should be made in the event of a nurse becoming disabled, or in any other difficulty.

RULES FOR PROBATIONERS.

Suitable candidates are received as regular Probationers for the full term of four and one-half years, subject to the following rules and regulations:—

They will be required to enter the Hospital for three months on trial. At the end of that time, if considered suitable, they will sign an agreement to remain for the term of four and one-half years.

They must be of average height and physique. They must produce a medical certificate of good health, and two letters of reference; pass an educational test; and pay a fee of £54 12s.

Their age must not be, unless under special circumstances, under 23, nor over 35.

They will receive in quarterly instalments a salary of £8 per annum for the last three-and-a-half years.

They will be required to provide themselves for the first year with indoor and outdoor uniforms. Indoor uniform will be provided for them during the remainder of the period.

A certain amount of washing will be done for them at the expense of the Hospital.

They will receive Lectures in Anatomy and Surgical Nursing, Physiology, and Medical Nursing, Hygiene, and Invalid Cookery, and in Practical Nursing from the Superintendent of Nurses.

The first twelve months they will serve as ordinary Probationers, being moved from ward to ward as may be desired. At the end of one year, if competent, they will be raised to the rank of Assistant Nurses. After the third year they will be on the Private Nursing Staff of the Hospital; but during their period of training they will be required to act in any capacity that may be desired.

At the termination of their training they will undergo an examination. If this is passed satisfactorily, and provided that their conduct has been in all ways exemplary, they will receive a Certificate, signed by the Governor, members of the Committee and Medical Staff, and the Superintendent of Nurses.

They will be under the direct control of the Superintendent of Nurses.

In any case of serious neglect or misconduct on the part of a Probationer, she shall be suspended from duty by the Superintendent of Nurses, who shall refer the case to the judgment of the Committee.

A personal interview being necessary, candidates can see the Superintendent at her house every Tuesday and Thursday, between 11 and 1 p.m.

PAYING PROBATIONERS.

A limited number of ladies can be received as Probationers for periods of three months and upwards, on payment in advance of thirteen guineas (i.e., at the rate of a guinea per week), which includes everything except uniform. In no case will any portion of the fee be returned.

These arrangements can be renewed indefinitely on the same terms, according to mutual agreement.

They will be under the direct control of the Superintendent of Nurses, and be subject to the rules of the Hospital.

They will receive practical instruction in the wards of the Hospital.

They will receive the same lectures as ordinary Probationers; also practical instruction in Massage from the Superintendent, who is herself a certified Masseuse.

A personal interview being desirable, the Superintendent of Nurses will see candidates at her house every Tuesday, from 12 to 1 p.m.

APPENDIX III.

REPORT OF NURSING DEPARTMENT

For the Year ended 31st March, 1908.

THE Governors are happy to be in a position to report that the Nursing Establishment of the Hospital has been worked with marked success during the past year.

It will not, perhaps, be out of place to give a few figures showing the expansion of the work carried on during the past fifteen years.

In 1894 the sum received from Fees and Earnings of Nurses to which shows that the income derived from this source has increased six-fold in the term mentioned.
31st March, amounted to	£423	13	0

The estimated cost of Nursing in the Hospital in the year 1894 was £740 14s., while it has now risen to £1,395 2s. 6d.; and in spite of extra demand on the services of the Nurses inside the Hospital, the amount received from them in connection with private nursing and fees has so increased, that the whole nursing of the Hospital has been defrayed free of expense, leaving a large balance for the general benefit of the Hospital.

The Governors cannot but regard this record as most satisfactory, and they believe it is largely due to the good management of the Superintendent of Nurses, and the energy displayed by her.

The Home is now being worked quite independently, drawing all supplies directly from the contractors.

This arrangement has worked excellently, both as regards economy and greater variety in the dietary; it also affords very valuable experience in housekeeping to the Sisters placed in charge of the Home.

During the past year 23 Nurses and Probationers joined the Nursing Staff; 14 Sisters and Nurses left, the majority having obtained appointments elsewhere; and 8 Probationers left before completing their period of trial. One Nurse died.

There were 90 Sisters and Nurses of all grades on the staff on 31st March last.

The increased accommodation, comfort, and other advantages of the Home are fully appreciated by the Nursing Staff.

APPENDIX IV.

CLINICAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR STUDENTS.

THE Hospital affords exceptional advantages for Clinical Instruction. Owing to its position a large number of casualties are always under treatment in the Institution, while there are to be found occupying its beds at all times numerous cases of Acute and Chronic Medical and Surgical Disease. There is a detached building for Fever Cases, and in connection with the Hospital is an extensive Out-patient Department, with separate Clinics for diseases of the Eye and Ear, Skin, Throat and Teeth. Every opportunity is afforded to the Students to become thoroughly familiar with the modern appliances used in the diagnosis and treatment of disease.

RESIDENT PUPILS.

Attention is specially directed to the fact that many of the principal licensing bodies now fully recognise the very important advantages to be derived from residence in Hospital, and they allow Six Months' Hospital Residence as an equivalent to Nine Months' ordinary Hospital Practice. There is accommodation in the Hospital for Twelve Resident Pupils, who are provided with separate furnished rooms, with coal and gas, and also a comfortable common sitting-room for meals, which latter can be obtained at a reasonable rate.

FEES.

Hospital Practice—Nine Months, £12 12s.; Six Months, £8 8s.,
Three Months, £5 5s.

DRESSERSHIP.

Each Three Months, £10 10s., which includes Fee for Hospital Practice.

The Session commences on the First Monday in October.

A Prospectus and Particulars may be obtained from the Resident Surgeon, at the Hospital, or from William Steele Haughton, M.D., B.CH., Honorary Secretary of the Medical Staff, 16 Merrion Square, N., Dublin.

Legal Form of Legacy.

“ I, —————, do give and bequeath unto the Governors and Guardians, for the time being, of DR. STEEVENS’ HOSPITAL, the sum of ————pounds sterling, to be paid within ————months next after my decease, free of Legacy Duty and other expenses, and with legal interest after the said term of payment, upon trust to be applied towards carrying on the purposes of the said Institution; and I hereby direct and declare that the receipt of the Governors and Guardians, for the time being, of the said Institution shall be a sufficient discharge to my Executors for the said Legacy.”

By the Act 5 and 6 Victoria, cap. 89, entitled “An Act to Assimilate the Stamp Duties in Great Britain and Ireland,” all Legacies for Education of the Poor in Ireland, or for Charitable Institutions, are exempt from Stamp Duty.

N.B.—It should be particularly noticed that no will whatsoever, whether of real or personal property, which bears date after the 1st day of January, 1838, is valid, unless it be signed at the foot by the Testator, or by some person in his presence, or by his direction, and unless said signature be acknowledged by him in the presence of two witnesses, who must sign the same as witnesses, in the presence of the Testator—all three being present and signing at the same time.—See Stat. 1 Vic., cap. 26, sec. ix.
